ROSSER & MCCARTHY,

Proprietors.

SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1892.

PENDLETON COUNTY Republicans are almost unanimously in favor of President Harrison for re-election. The other fellows are not "in it" in Kentucky.

GOVERNOR BROWN should ask Adjutant General Gross to step down and out, if it is true that he has refused to wear a blue suit while he holds his position. Such a small-minded and cranky-brained person as that sentiment indicates is not a proper individual for public office.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal will have to revise its illustration of Ajax Douglas, the chief of the lottery sharks, defying the Goebel bill. Mr. Ajax has gone out of the "defy" business. He has ordered all his dens to be closed up, and the Citizens' Committee of Louisville will see that they are kept closed. That "iniquitous measure," as Representative Myers calls it, has proven a severe blow to his pet.

THE opinion of Attorney General Hendrick is that all railroads which claim exemption under the act of 1884 are liable for State taxes since 1886. A demand for this unpaid tax will be made by the Auditor. It is estimated the State will realize $125,000 under this ruling, and it is equally important to many cities and counties. Under this decision Maysville is entitled to several years' taxes from the C. and O., and Mason County is also entitled to several years' taxes for the same period.

THE Judicial Redistricting Committee have placed Mason County in the Twenty-second district, the other counties being Bracken, Fleming, Lewis and Greenup. This arrangement will probably be allowed to stand. At the last gubernatorial election, the Democratic plurality in these counties was 657, the vote standing: Democratic, 6,623; Republican, 5,966. There were 1,092 votes cast for the Prohibition and Farmers' Alliance nominees, however, at that election. Most of the Alliance vote, it is thought, came from the Democratic party in that contest. The political complexion of the district might be put down as Democratic, but there is no sure thing about it.

Tuckahoe's Egg-Sucker. The developments of Tuckahoe Ridge move simultaneously with the progress of the "outside world, and it now comes up with the champion egg-sucker. A few days since, one of its inhabitants devoured two dozen of the little wonders, seven of which were duck eggs, and when he called for the third dozen, the sports, who were vouchers for the expenses incurred, squealed.—Dover News.

Tourists. Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headache and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

THIS YEAR'S ASSESSMENT.

Returns From Most all the Counties Show the Increase is About $7,000,000.

A Courier-Journal special from Frankfort says:

"Though the returns of the State assessment for 1892 are not quite complete, yet the figures in the table already prepared, and which include every county in the State, with the exception of nine, show that the increase in the valuations this year will be about $7,000,000.

"The largest increase is shown in Jefferson County the amount being $5,088,896. Kenton increases $1,251,329; Fayette $1,086,890, and Campbell $536,047. A few of the mountain counties show a decline in valuations, but a majority of them, notwithstanding the financial depression of the past year, are steadily increasing. Clay decreased $475,653; Leslie, $409,192; Lee, $337,338, and Martin, $364,201, while Knott increased $364,678; Knox, $134,419; Bell, $350,973; Magoffin, $987,970; Perry, $133,784, and Pike, $145,875.

"On the aggregate increased valuation estimated, the State will derive an increased revenue of about $29,750 for this year.

"The increase of $7,000,000 in the valuation, while not keeping pace with the large increases of the previous two years, in which booms played a conspicuous part, is still an average healthy increase, made specially noteworthy in the fact that it follows the remarkable increase of $26,432,805 for the year 1891, when, perhaps, for no other year in the history of the State, excepting in 1887, when the Hewitt revenue law first went into effect and raised the assessment nearly $100,000,000, was there such an extraordinary increase in the taxable valuation."

Railway News.

The earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio for the first week of March shows an increase of $8,875.67 over those for the corresponding week last year. The figures are: 1892, $157,049.87; 1891, $148,174.20. Increase, $8,875.67.

The engines which haul the F. F. V. train over the Chesapeake and Ohio are the largest passenger engines which leave the Central Union Depot. These engines stand so high from the ground that they couldn't pass under the bridges spanning the old Whitewater Canal bed without tearing down the smokestack and roof of the cab. The F. F. V. train is made up of a mail and express car, day coach, dining car and two Pullman sleepers. The ordinary weight of passenger cars is from 40,000 to 60,000 pounds, the former being the average weight of a day coach and the latter the average weight of a Pullman sleeper. The cars that make up the F. F. V. train are of the average weight of 105,000 pounds, they being built with false floors and filled in with lead and iron to obtain the uniform weight. This is done so as to make them ride easy. The big passenger engines referred to not only furnish the power for drawing these heavy trains, but also provide steam for heating the entire vestibuled train and for running the dynamo, which supplies the train with light.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

River News.

The St. Lawrence leaves the Maysville wharf every day, except Sunday, at 11:30 a. m. for Cincinnati and way points.

Floyd Morgan has resigned as second clerk of the City of Madison, and will engage in the coal business at Vanceburg.

It has been definitely settled that the new Iron Queen will leave Pittsburgh the last day of March on her first trip. She is pronounced the handsomest steamer built for years. She is 237 feet long, and has a full length cabin, without recesses, nurseries and lavatories being on the sides. Her state-rooms are of extra size, and have every modern appointment. In general points the boat is as complete as skill and taste can make it. The principal feature about her is the exquisite effects obtained from interior cabin decorations, the finish being in white Lin-crusta Walton pine, with gold trimmings. The panels of her doors have crested panels of varied design, and other details are in keeping with the main design.
